

FREE COINAGE IN IOWA.

At the Democratic State Convention at Council Bluffs, Iowa, Representative Hayes of that State, who was elected by the Democrats, appeared as an emissary of Wall street and endeavored to get a financial plank shaped by the gold kings into the platform. His argument, which was backed by Wall street persuasions in the shape of treasury notes, failed to convince the convention that only gold should be coined at the mints and he left much disgusted. Governor Boies was elected on a double standard platform and the convention endorsed him for President of the United States.

The financial plank of the state platform says:

The Democratic party of Iowa, recognizing the national obligation to maintain a sound and honest currency of equal value in all its forms and of suitable volume to preserve a just proportion between its purchasing power and the cost of the product of labor at liberal wages, reaffirms its adherence to the financial system of the fathers of the Republic, based upon free bimetallic coinage and hereby declares its unequalled opposition to all legislation calculated to reduce either of the precious metals to the position of a commodity alone by establishing the other as a single standard for the measurement of values.

That plank satisfies the silver men of the country and with Boies or an equally sound bimetallic elected President on a platform containing it the remonetization of silver would be assured.

STANFORD ON THE SITUATION.

Senator Leland Stanford of California, a life-long Republican and many times a millionaire, concedes that the times are out of joint and that there is urgent necessity for relief. Senator Stanford was elected Governor of the Golden State in 1860 on the Republican ticket. In 1884 he was elected United States Senator to succeed J. T. Farley, and in 1890 he was re-elected Senator as a Republican. His name has been favorably mentioned as a candidate for President on the Republican ticket, so that there is no question regarding the genuineness of his Republicanism. Senator Stanford recently visited California to attend the annual election of the Southern Pacific Company, of which he has been President and is now a director, and on his return to Washington was interviewed at Pittsburg and is reported as saying:

"The People's party will certainly have a candidate in the fight this fall. With a national debt of $2,600,000,000, an enormous railway indebtedness, half the land mortgaged, and the land load growing heavier, it is time that measures of relief be taken. In the West people need more or freer money. The People's party hopes to get it from the Government. I don't know who their candidate will be. I presume Mr. Harrison and Mr. Cleveland will be respectively the candidates of their parties. That is the general impression in the West."

OPPOSED TO BI-METALLISM.

Germany demonetized silver to cripple France, from which country she exacted a billion dollars in gold. Senator Jones says she inflicted on her own people by the fall of prices consequent on the increase in the value of money more misery than all her armies of horse and foot had been able to inflict on France. From 1873 to 1890 the emigration from Germany numbered 1,546,000. According to a Berlin dispatch the German Government and the rich have always since silver was demonetized been opposed to bi-metallism, and in that respect is exactly like the United States. In this country there has not been an administration since 1873 that has been favorable to bi-metallism, in fact, the Standard Dollar Act was passed in 1873 over the veto of Hayes.

DISCORDANT NOTES.

A week ago the gold organ declared that the organization of Silver Leagues in Nevada was a scheme of C. C. Wallace in the interest of ex-Congressman Cassidy and against the Air Line Railroad. Last evening the organ said: "George Cassidy, a few days ago in San Francisco, told a gentleman from this State that he was not in Europe when the arrangements for forming a third party were being made; that he had never signed the call nor authorized any one to do so for him."

Judge Sage of the United States District Court at Cincinnati has rendered a decision which declares the River and Harbor Act of Congress unconstitutional, as far as it gives the Secretary of War judicial powers. The case grew out of an order from the Secretary of War, who furnished the Muskingum County Commissioners plans and specifications for the construction of a span for the bridge near Zanesville, Ohio, which the Commissioners hadn't money to carry out. The case is to be appealed and made a test case.

The sugar bounty for the present fiscal year amounted to over $7,000,000. Other industries of course are taxed to pay the bounty. How very foolish it was in Mr. Reed's Congress, if foreign sugar producers paid the tariff, to put the article on the free list and then tax other industries to pay a bounty to home sugar producers. It really looks as if the men who enacted such a law were bribed with Cuban and Porto Rico gold.

Government employees at Ellis Island, N. Y., are charged with conspiring with the employees of various steamship lines to defeat the operations of the Contract Labor Act. An investigation has been ordered and several Government officials are likely to be dismissed.

An Epidemic of Assaults on Women in London.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

California Democrats in Convention—The Traffic Association—Another Stage Robbery.

California Democrats.

FRESNO, Cal., May 17.—In the State Convention held here to-day R. P. Troy was elected Secretary. A Committee on Credentials was appointed and the convention adjourned until to-morrow morning.

In the election for Chairman of the Convention the roll call proceeded with but few interruptions. The Chairman ruled that no one except members who were delegates could take exception to the vote as cast by the Chairman of the delegations. The roll of individual members of the delegations was called in the cases of Nevada, San Diego and San Francisco. Fresno requested to be passed until the end when Senator Goucher announced that Fresno would not vote, she being to host other delegates. Murphy did not vote and Ostrom cast his vote for Murphy. The Chairman announced the total votes 629; necessary to choose 314. Murphy 346, Ostrom 283. Leake, on behalf of Ostrom, moved to make the nomination unanimous, and it was carried with a rush. Murphy was then escorted to the stage by Ostrom and Leake. On taking the chair he made a five minute speech, in which the name of Cleveland was not mentioned.

Those English Department Cars.

LONDON, May 17.—There appears to be an epidemic of assaults on women traveling alone in railway compartments. Yesterday a painter named Windle assaulted Hannah Cordock in a railway carriage. To-day a clergyman named Kennedy Bell was arrested for a double offense. First he criminally assaulted Miss Brittan, who was alone with him in a railway carriage. The young woman left the train as soon as it stopped but did not inform the guards of the affair. Her place in the carriage was taken by Miss Aubrey, a telegraph operator. Bell also assaulted her after a desperate struggle. At the next station Miss Aubrey notified the guards and Bell was arrested. In the meantime Miss Brittan's parents had complained to the police. Both women are respectable and Bell heretofore bore a good reputation.

Large Mining Sale.

PRESIDENT, ARIZ., May 17.—One of the largest mining sales ever made in this section of Arizona has been consummated, whereby Dr. H. H. Warner of Rochester, N. Y., has become the owner of the Hill-side group of mines. The purchase price is $500,000. The property was owned by John Lawler and Judge E. W. Wells, and was turned over to the new owners yesterday. Dr. Warner, who was here for about ten days, left for the East to-day.

The Engineers.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The visiting members of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers made a trip about the bay to-day on the tug Fearless, proceeding as far as Mare Island navy yards where the dry docks and construction departments were inspected. They returned to the city in time for the business session this evening.

Mineral Lands Protected.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A bill to provide for the examination and classification of mineral lands in Montana and Idaho was to-day reported to the House from the Committee on Public Lands. The object of the bill is to prevent the acquisition of lands, said to be rich in minerals, by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company under its land grant.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—During the debate on the Sundry Civil bill, Bowers of California and Snodgrass of Tennessee had a noisy controversy about a remark which Snodgrass understood Bowers to make, much to the amusement of the House.

Without action the House adjourned.

The Traffic Association.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The Executive Committee of the California Traffic Association to-day elected Fred L. Castle of San Francisco president of the Association. Barry Baldwin of San Francisco and W. H. Wood of Sacramento were elected respectively first and second vice president.

Another Stage Robbery.

SANTA ROSA, Cal., May 17.—The Casadero stage was robbed near Beavertown this afternoon, and all the passengers were robbed, but the mail and express was not touched. Sheriff McCreary is working up the case. There is no clue.

Cammenitts Renominated.

FRESNO, Cal., May 17.—A Cammenitts, the present incumbent, received the Democratic nomination for Congressman in the second district to-night. R. D. Stephens and W. J. Magee were elected district delegates to the National Convention.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The naval appropriation bill caused a debate in the Senate to-day. McPherson offered an amendment to strike out the House provision for battle ships and provide for one harbor defense boulder turret ship of monitor type. Vilas of Wisconsin said the amount of annual appropriation now imposed on the country might not improperly be described as appalling and he did not think the Senate should not go further toward increasing the navy under present circumstances than the House bill provided. Allison, chairman of the appropriation committee, asked the Democratic senators to indicate what statutes they would like to appeal in order to reduce the appropriations now necessary. Vest replied that he would appeal the sugar bounty law and postal subsidy bill. Allison calculated that would save about $8,000,000 and said the country was asked to elect a Democratic President and Senate in order that the sugar bounty and the postal subsidy law might be repealed. Vest replied that that would just be a starter. Allison referred to the condition of the public treasury and among other things said that at the end of the fiscal year on the first of July next there would be a surplus of $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 in the Treasury, and every requirement of the Treasury will have been satisfied. Mills said the report of the Secretary of the Treasury did not coincide with Allison's statement as to the surplus. Hawley of Connecticut said none of our warships could go out to open sea for battle. They were splendid chasers and probably splendid runners, but what we wanted was at least a few of the old kind of 1812 and 1855 and 1860. Finally a vote was taken on McPherson's amendment and it was rejected. Yeas, 18; nays, 30.

DEATH TO THE FISH.

Trout in the Truckee Being Extirpated—A Wall from Over the Line.

Truckee Republican: J. A. Snow and P. J. Albertson, who have followed the business of fishermen on the Truckee for the past nineteen years, have just come up from Wadsworth. They tell a doleful story about the trout business, and fully confirm all that Stevens & McKinney have heretofore told in these columns. Mr. Snow says that while his annual shipment of trout has been eight or nine thousand pounds between the months of October and May his shipments between those months this year have only amounted to seven hundred pounds. His experience has been that of all fishermen generally. No trout are allowed to get out of Pyramid Lake and the Indians are slaughtering them on a gigantic scale. Thirty white fishermen are put out of employment by the Government dam at the mouth of the Truckee river. Perch, catfish and Indians, and the Government of the United States and the negligent Fish Commissioners, are rapidly settling the trout question. There are no small fish, no spawners, no prospect of perpetuating the trout, and the old fish are being killed by every known device to Government agents and Private Indians. It is a state of affairs that would make a law-abiding citizen blush for shame. There is no further need for newspaper agitation, for the trout fishing is virtually at an end so far as river fishing is concerned. All that remains to be done is to write the epitaph of the fishy multitudes that once made the Truckee the finest trout stream America.

A Nevada Industry.

The Granite works at Washoe City furnish employment to a number of men. Granite of a superior quality is obtained from the quarries in the adjacent hills. It is dressed and prepared at Washoe City, from which place it is shipped to points north and south. It is capable of a high polish, and the specimens shown the Journal reporter seem to be equal in every respect to the famous granite of old Vermont.

An Injunction.

There are two kinds the courts tell you—a temporary and a permanent injunction. A temporary injunction gives relief for a time only, but when you take Simmons Liver Regulator for Dyspepsia, and find yourself cured, that means a permanent injunction. It's the same when taking the Regulator for Malaria, and all affections of the liver and kidneys.

A Telephone Marvel.

An interesting and amusing instance of the efficiency of the London-Paris telephone occurred the other day which is worth recording. The Salvation Army band were marching from the Royal exchange playing the "Marseillaise," when an idea struck the men present in the telephone room. The windows and the doors were thrown open, and the attendants at the Paris end was asked if he could hear anything. The response (in French) was immediate. "Yes, I can hear a band playing the 'Marseillaise.'" That a band of music playing in the streets of London could be plainly distinguished in Paris is, we think, a sufficiently striking marvel of the nineteenth century science.—London Electrical Engineer.

A Princess' Cloak.

Here is a description of a new cloak just seen in Paris: "It was made for the Princess de Lucigne, and was of pearl white satin brocaded with hyacinth bloom in velvet, woven with gold, the design standing out in bold relief. It fell to the feet, and apparently opened back and front over the folds of Parma mauve velvet. A Mazarine collar, reaching to the waist, back and front of velvet to match, was embroidered with pearls and bordered all around with a rich pearl fringe. The full high sleeves were of mauve velvet also."

Social and Refreshments.

The ladies of the M. E. Aid Society will serve a dinner of baked beans and brown bread at Mrs. Albert Ward's, on Mill street, Friday May 20, from 4 to 7 A. M. Social and refreshment in the evening. All made welcome. By order of the president, May 15 1d

A Caution About Spilling Dresses. It may be as well to suggest that care should be exercised in the close cut of skirts when the material is thin or of light texture. Indian silks and crepe de chine have been worn recently that traced every line of the corset and of the limbs from the waist down. A woman wearing such a dress ought to be indicted for indecent exposure of person. Yet some do it without immoral intention, simply from obliquity of sense where dress is concerned and because they wish to appear in the height of the fashion.—Homemaker.

The First Girl Over the Big New Bridge. Miss Josie Girth, who resides at the corner of Iowa and Indiana avenues, had the honor to be the first lady to cross the Mississippi river on the bridge. She was escorted by Mr. Martin Glancy, engineer of engine 131 on the Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis railroad. Miss Girth crossed the gap in the center span on two planks ten inches wide and fifty-six feet long, Thursday afternoon. The river was eighty feet below her at the time, and a mistle or a moment's dizziness meant death.—Memphis Appeal-Avalanche.

Cut Short the Skirts. Walking down Broadway, a few days ago, after a shower, I noticed two well dressed ladies dragging their trains on the uneven sidewalk six to twelve inches, saturated with filth of all kinds—mud, tobacco juice and disease germs—causing destruction and death. Can't this fashion be changed?—New York Letter.

Restoring a Waterproof. The following process is said to restore to a waterproof the original softness. Dissolve a teaspoonful of best gray lime in half a pintful of water; wipe the cloak well with a soft cloth, wrung loosely out of this mixture; hang to dry and repeat the operation in two hours.—New York Journal.

BORN.

THOMAS—In Reno, May 14, 1892, to the wife of Dr. Thomas, a daughter.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine which can truly be said to be "One Hundred Doses for a Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home"—there is now of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad—no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. L. The Pioche Record says: "The new town of Ferguson has four frame buildings in course of erection. Business is now conducted in tents, but lumber is being hauled in every day. A company is putting a saw mill about six miles from there, and will be ready to furnish lumber in about two weeks."

The saw mill at Incline will open up for the summer season on the 20th inst. Owing to dull times at Virginia City the season will not last very long. The output of lumber generally depends upon the prosperity of Virginia City, which place consumes all the wood and lumber that is shipped from Tediue.

CANDELARIA NEWS.

An Enthusiastic Silver Club Organized.

CANDELARIA, May 15, 1892.

ED. JOURNAL.—I do not know whether a letter from Candelaria would be interesting to your readers or not, but we have an enthusiastic Silver Club here and, as our home paper is not with us and Nevada in our struggle for life, we must look elsewhere for communication with the outside world.

Our club meets every Thursday night. At the last meeting letters from M. H. Slater of the Colorado State Silver League, James Baxter of Boise City, Idaho, and Chas. E. Mack of Virginia City, were read and created a good deal of enthusiasm. The election of delegates to the county convention to be held here the first of June, which was made a special order at the preceding meeting, was taken up and the following were chosen: G. L. Albright, Fred Corkill, W. A. Ingalls, W. E. Hill and J. M. Jones.

The feeling here is that a State organization should be had as soon as possible, so that we may co-operate with other States and pull together.

The Lyon County Club is about the only club in the State, outside of Esmeralda county, with which we are in correspondence. Our Executive Committee are all practical men and would be pleased to correspond with any club or any individual in the State.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system; gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

WORK OF THE SILVER LEAGUE.

Free Coinage the Handmaid and Helpmeet of Railroads and Every Industry.

The Silver State energetically pays its respect to the howlers who are trying to create the impression that the free coinage of silver will prevent the building of another railroad through Nevada, and that the Silver League for some unaccountable reason are opposed to the building of a competitive railroad. It says:

Our editorial builders of air line railroads in the West are fearfully terrified lest the Silver Leagues and free coinage should at once stop their construction. What silly creatures; what mental obliquity; what damphools. Free coinage is the handmaid and helpmeet of railroads and every industry and great enterprise in the land. The Nevada silver mines during their prosperity and wonderful development in their free coinage reign hastened the construction of the Central Pacific air line by twenty years. In fact these mines were the main cause of the gigantic work of tunneling the mountains and sealing the snow-capped summit and peaks of the Sierra to make a pathway for the engine, and the freight and Pullman cars. The Central Pacific railroad company of California only hoped to build a road from Sacramento to the timber belt on the western slope of the mountains until the silver mines with their immense stores of wealth beckoned it onward. Onward it went. The silver mines under free coinage enabled the company to place the first mortgage bonds in the money centers of the world almost at par, and thus give it such aid as to enable it to accomplish such feats in railroad construction as were never attained before and have never been equaled since. While this handmaid of industry, energy and civilization was infusing throbbing life blood into all the arteries of trade and commerce, building up cities and sea ports, pushing the plow in the virgin soil and making merry the homes of millions of laborers—the producers of wealth, the red-handed assassins, the hirelings of the gold coupon clippers, the leeches upon the body politic, the purloiners and absorbers of the reward of labor, with fiendish malignity and avaricious greed, united in Europe and America and dealt the fatal blow to silver, established a gold bug oligarchy in all the leading nations of the world, which has well nigh stricken with paralysis human labor, human hopes, human ambition and human aspiration. Let this blighting curse be erased from the black catalogue of high crimes. Let the authors, abettors and apologists be lashed through the public avenues of public thoughts and public scorn. This is the work before the friends of silver, the Silver Leagues and the defenders of the rights of humanity. Aye, this is the work for the third party! Let the work go bravely on.

SCENIC ROUTE.

From Reno to Carson a Line of Beauty.

The short trip from Reno to Carson is unequalled in its scenic beauty by any road of similar length in America. There is no place in the country to day where mountains of such altitude covered with a glistening coat of snow so nearly overhang valleys whose smiling verdure cling back such fragrant odors of flower and shrub to the cool mountain breeze.

Eastern people go into raptures over the winding roads that thread the Alleghany Mountains, yet they can neither boast of the sage-covered hills, the lava cliffs, the sparkling streams of crystal mountain water or of lofty snow-covered peaks such as render Nevada scenery so beautiful.

Nevadans can hardly appreciate the beauties at home until they have visited the prosaic East with her pygmy mountains and muddy, sluggish streams.

Death of Eli Reinhart.

Last evening Moses Reinhart and wife and Mrs. M. Hofman of Winnemucca passed through on their way to San Francisco, where they were called by the death of their uncle, Eli Reinhart, which occurred yesterday morning.

Mr. Reinhart came to the Pacific Coast in early days and opened a store in Winnemucca when the railroad was being built. By fair dealing and liberality he built up a large trade and carried on an extensive general merchandise business. He had been in ill health for some time and his death, which was very sudden, resulted from heart disease. His death will be regretted by many people in Central Nevada and Southeastern Oregon.

More Eastern Trout.

Fish Commissioner Mills sent down 40,000 Eastern brook trout to be placed in the pond near C. H. Stoddard's ranch. They are as fine a lot of fish as have been planted here so far. It will not be many years until the Truckee will be the angler's paradise.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

ELIZABETH OAKES SMITH THE OLDEST LIVING AUTHORESS.

Literary Women Breakfast—Women Successful at the Polls—A President's Sweetheart—She Will Succeed—Making the Most of a Vacation.

Far down in North Carolina, in a little town called Hollywood, there is lying at present on a bed of illness Elizabeth Oakes Smith, perhaps the oldest authoress alive today. Eighty-six years have gone over her head, covering a life of singular brilliancy. Hers is a career little familiar to the younger generation of today. Yet fifty years ago, in the old Knickerbocker literary period of New York, no woman was thought so brilliant or more beautiful. She was the central figure of coteries that had for its spirits such men as Bryant, Willis, Poe, Ripley, Irving and Longfellow, while women like Mrs. Sigourney, Anna Estelle Lewis (Stella), Anna Cora Mowatt and the Cary sisters regarded Elizabeth Oakes Smith as their most talented confidante. She was the soul and life of every great literary gathering in those times, and the brilliant salon of Mme. Vincenza Botto had not a more charming habitue. She was the first woman in this country to appear as a public lecturer, and among the first to speak from a pulpit.

In 1841 her fame was at its zenith, and her book of "The Sinless Child" carried her name to other lands. She was the wife of Seba Smith, best known as "Major Jack Downing," and they were a well matched pair. She is now one of the few remaining members of that brilliant literary galaxy. For years she resided in a small secluded cottage near Patchogue, L. I., close to the spot where her husband is buried. Then she moved to North Carolina to the home of her son, and there she is now lying, I understand, dangerously ill. By the great and busy world she is forgotten; her works have long been out of print; her pen has probably been laid down for the last time, but before her spirit slips away, I crave the privilege of at least telling such of this generation as this paragraph may reach that Elizabeth Oakes Smith once lived in their midst, and in their time, although they knew it not.—Edward W. Bok in Brooklyn Standard-Union.

Literary Women Breakfast. The New York Wheaton club held its sixth annual breakfast at the Fifth Avenue hotel Saturday. About seventy-five ladies sat down, among them being representatives of the various women's clubs in the city, and others who have made themselves prominent in literary and educational fields.

The president of the club, Kate Upson Clark, of Brooklyn, presided. Grace was said by Mrs. Martha Sawyer Holmes, after which an address of welcome, written by Miss Susan Hayes Ward, was presented. Mrs. Annie MacMurray gave a recitation, and the following responded to toasts: Miss Alice B. Congdon, Mrs. Jeannie Stickney Carson, Miss A. Ellen Stanton, principal of the institution; Mrs. Estelle M. H. Merrill, president; Dr. Jennie Loefer, president of Sorosis; Miss Edith S. Macurdy, Mrs. Sarah F. Marsh, Mrs. Sarah Delemater Robinson, Miss Emily Huntington, of the Wilson mission, and Mrs. Caroline Hickney Creevey, president of the Cambridge club.

Among others present were Mrs. Eunice Caldwell Cowles, first principal of the Wheaton seminary; Mary Virginia Terhune (Marion Harland), Mrs. Christine Terhune Herrick, assistant editor New York Recorder; Mrs. Margaret E. Sangster, editor Harper's Bazar; Mrs. C. H. Gardner, of the Gardner school, Fifth avenue; Mrs. Olive Thorne Miller, Mrs. Helen Hiscock Backus, president Brooklyn Woman's club; Mrs. Lillian W. Betts, editor home department Christian Union; Mrs. Margaret Hamilton Welch, of the New York Times, and Mrs. Alice Taylor Bartram (Helen Joy).—New York Advertiser.

Women Successful at the Polls. Bloomington, Ill., has just had a campaign in which the determination of a number of women to carry out a pet purpose played an important part. Two members of the school board were to be elected, and as it was the first occasion in Bloomington upon which women had been permitted to vote without objection, the contest naturally attracted a great deal of attention, especially as the four voters were engaged in a campaign upon the issue that more male teachers should be employed in the public schools. The ladies held a mass meeting a few days before the election at which every point was thoroughly canvassed and discussed. All questions bearing upon the law of woman suffrage were referred by the convention to Miss Effie Henderson, a particularly bright young lady, who is at the head of her class in the law department of Wesleyan university.

She will begin the practice of her profession in Bloomington during the present year. Miss Henderson was moving around incessantly on election day, and had any attempt been made to interfere with the rights of her sister voters she was prepared to resist vigorously. It might be just as well to mention that the Bloomington women carried their point and triumphantly elected their two candidates. They were not interfered with, and all of Miss Henderson's opinions as to the intent and practical operation of the law thus received unqualified vindication.

A President's Sweetheart. Miss Minerva Earle, aged eighty-six years and seven days, died on Saturday in this city. She was born in Buffalo April 2, 1806, and lived in that city until she became a resident of Niles, in 1928. Miss Earle was in her younger days the belle of her native city, and possessed remarkable beauty, allied with an intelligence and wit that was exceptional. In the years immediately preceding her coming to this city she is said to have become the betrothed of

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what their merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief." ☐

Millard Fillmore, at that time a rising young barrister in Buffalo. For a number of years the betrothal was continued, but was broken upon Miss Earle's removal to this city.

After she became a resident of this city she was visited by Mr. Fillmore, but would not, for reasons unknown, return to her old home as his wife. Millard Fillmore, at the time of his visit, was becoming prominent in politics, and was afterward elected vice president of the United States, and became president upon the death of Zachary Taylor, in 1850.

Miss Earle was never married. To mourn her departure from this life are left a number of relatives, including one sister, Mrs. Harris, of Detroit. Miss Earle lived at the home place, where she died, for the past fifty-seven years, known and revered by all as "Aunt Minerva."—Niles (N. Y.) Sun.

She Will Succeed.

Miss Grace Wells, of Connecticut, is going to be a doctor. She determined this when she was fifteen years old. Her uncle, with whom she lived, opposed her, he could not give her the necessary education. She then asked him to loan her a cow, a dozen hens and six turkeys for a year. This he did, and at the end of a year she had made profit enough out of them to buy her a printing outfit, which she set up in the corner of a woodshed. She then solicited the printing of cards, letterheads and envelopes. At the end of this year Miss Grace paid her uncle the rent for the cow and fowls and had money enough to take lessons twice a week from the preacher. By the time she was eighteen she had saved up money to go to the academy during the fall and winter; spring and summer she worked at her trade.

She has paid for her schooling herself and now has enough money in the bank for the two years' medical course she is going to take. Meanwhile she has been reading with a New Haven doctor. She says she doesn't mean to ask anybody to stand aside to let her pass. There's a place for her ahead, and she'll work until she gets it.—New York Evening Sun.

Making the Most of a Vacation.

Two teachers who will spend their vacation across the water have been taking measures all winter to secure the greatest amount of benefit from their two months' trip. They have wisely decided to undertake only a little, and cathedral England is to be the limit of their sight seeing, except what comes incidentally in pursuit of this plan.

Before Christmas they began the study of English cathedral architecture to find that it led them back through the Romanesque and Greek characteristics to its Egyptian source. Through reading and attending lectures bearing upon the subject they have secured an intelligent conception of the various styles, and they expect pleasure and profit in applying this knowledge during the coming trip. To see more of the country about the English cathedral towns they mean to walk wherever practicable, and to become accustomed to long tramps they have been taking preparatory stretches daily for weeks past. Six weeks in England to these two young women will mean more than a year would to some inattentive, unprepared travelers.—Her Point of View in New York Times.

Women Who Deserve Wealth.

Two hardy women from Los Angeles appeared at the land office in Santa Fe, N. M., a couple of weeks ago and filed upon homesteads which they had located. The land is on the eastern slope of the Zuni mountains, and in order to reach the place the women had to travel eighteen miles from the railroad station, walking much of the time because of the bad roads and often wading through two feet of snow. A number of men were waiting at the railroad settlement for the snow to thaw, so that they could locate claims, but the women said they had no time to wait, and they waded through the snow.

A Michigan syndicate had bought 200,000 acres of railroad land in that region, planned improvements and projected lumber mills, and as the indications were that 300 or 400 people were planning to found a colony there, the women thought they saw a big future and they put in their homestead claims. A number of similar instances of women miners, women ranchers and women homesteaders have come to notice lately in the great west.

Maid, Wife and Widow in Two Days.

"Owen and Annie were married last night at 10. Owen died this morning and will be buried tomorrow." Such was the telegram received at Linden recently, and one which tells a sad story. Owen G. McDermott and Miss Annie Saffell, of Pasquinet county, were engaged and the time for their marriage had been set, but owing to the illness of Mr. McDermott the wedding had been postponed. A few days ago Miss Saffell learned that her lover was very ill, and she hastened to his bedside to find him dying. At once the necessary steps were taken for securing license, preacher, etc., and inside of twelve hours Miss Saffell was maiden, wife and widow.—Front Royal (Va.) Cor. Richmond Times.

Sloping Shoulders and Spring Fashions. Sloping shoulders, one of a woman's good points, have of late been but little regarded, but they are again coming to the fore, inasmuch as some spring mantles (not paletots) are made to fall plainly on the shoulders and entirely without any puff. The line of beauty is scarcely thus attained, as the fullness of the dress sleeve makes an impress on the mantle. The fashionable idea—broad shoulders and narrow hips—is attempted in every possible way, and to attain it even the slimmest of the waist is abandoned. The cape is the best help in this respect, and the name includes every variety of mantle, exclusive of the paletot.—Season.
